BENEFITS OF USING A THERMAL MASSAGE BED

JOURNEY FROM ILLNESS TO WELLNESS

- One of the key benefits of using this bed is the sheer relaxation that comes along with it. This makes it an excellent solution for those dealing with stress.
- Radiant infrared heat and the infusion of pure oxygen ions promotes cell regeneration, leading to better circulation, an improved sense of well-being, and boosted energy levels.

EASE STIFFNESS

- Stiff muscles can happen for a number of reasons. Whether you're recovering from an injury, dealing with a great deal of stress or are simply getting a bit older, it's very common to feel tightness in your neck and back. When you're ready to find a remedy that encourages loose, relaxed muscles and more flexibility in your range of motion, try massage therapy. With careful, powerful strokes, you can remove stiffness and finally feel the ease you've been looking for.

OPEN JOINTS & MUSCLES

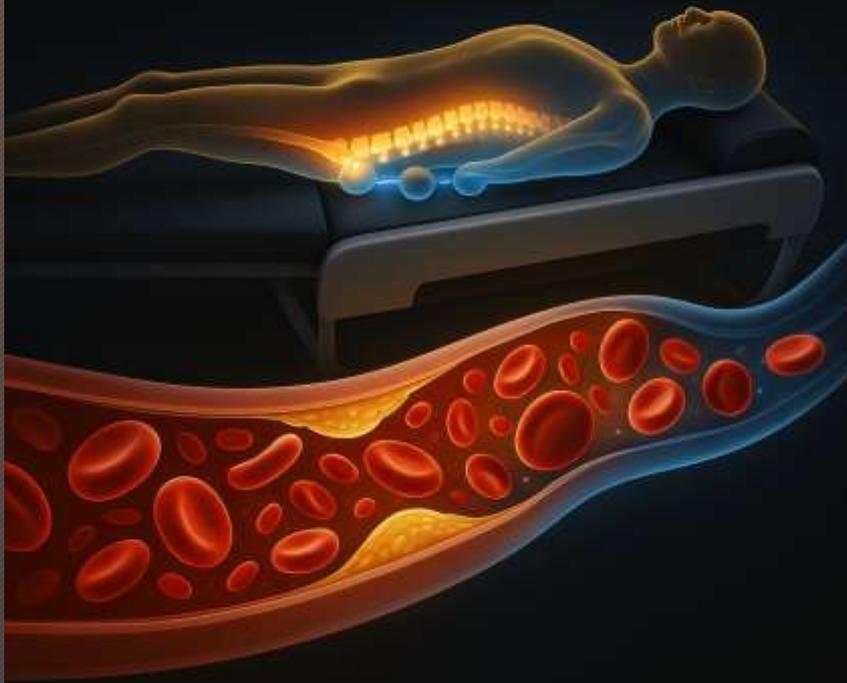

- Your joints are a major point for holding stress, which can make you feel locked up and unable to move freely. The right massage therapist will work on specific points of tension in your joints where you may hold stress, like your back, neck or shoulders. Advanced Master V4 bed scan this targeted pain areas and give deep therapy on that with thermal heating, which free up the muscles and allow your joints to create more natural lubrication, providing instant relief.

- According to the principles of traditional medicine, the body has invisible lines of energy flow called meridians. There are thought to be at least 14 meridians connecting our organs with other parts of the body. Acupuncture and acupressure points lie on those meridians.
- If the flow of energy is blocked at any point on a meridian, it's thought to cause various symptoms and health conditions anywhere along the meridian. That's why a practitioner may apply pressure to an acupressure point on the Spine to relieve the pains.
- Advanced Master V4 Bed scan the body and spine to give the perfect therapy on this points with precision

UNBELIEVABLE! AMAZING HEALING PROPERTIES OF THE JADE GEMSTONE

- Also known as the 'Stone from Heaven', the placid shade of jadeite green is said to calm and cleanse the system of its impure thoughts, anger, trauma, grief, and negativity.
- ❖ It also boosts the confidence of the wearer and encouraged him to be more self-sufficient and independent.
- This great cleanser also unclogs negative energy stuck in the nervous system, heart, liver, kidneys, gallbladder, and bladder.
- ❖ This stone helps remove toxins from the body and is believed to provide relief from urinary tract infections and cystitis.
- ❖ This healing gemstone soothes the bones and reduces pain in joints and muscles, through its ability to make the body heal without inducing pain to itself. It also protects its wearer from infections and diseases.

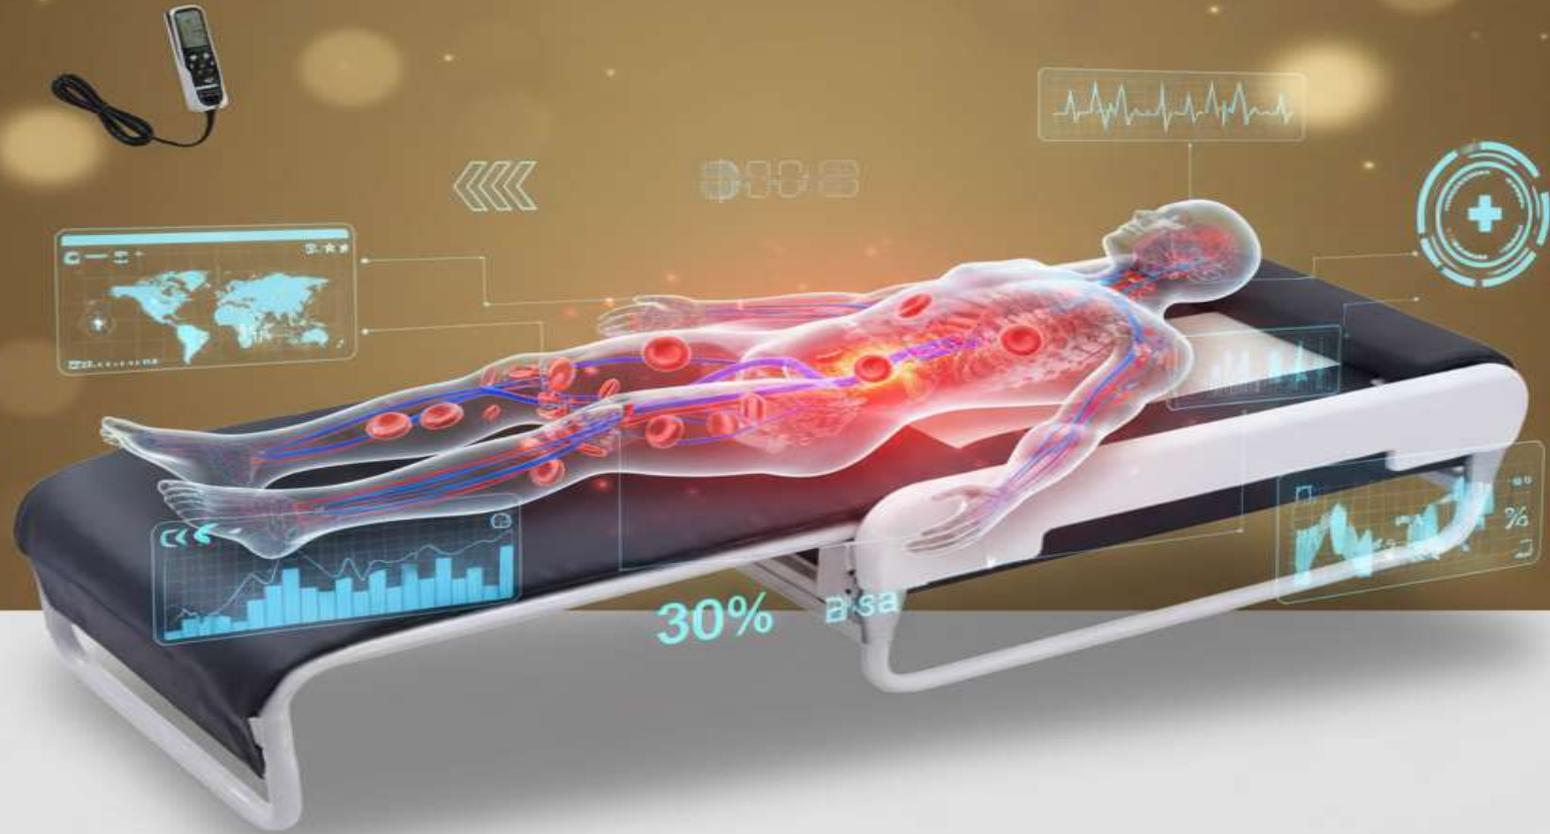

HOW THE JADE STONE THERAPY OF BED WORKS

- The jade gemstone is also believed to restore and balance the energy in the reproductive and fertility cycle in men and women. Jade helps increase the fertility of women and protects the fetus as well as the mother from harm. It also treats disorders relating to the reproductive system and provides relief from menstrual cramps.
- ❖ The green jade is often used for cleansing and balancing the seven chakras of the wearer of this gemstone.
 - ❖ Being the ruler of the heart chakra, the cleansing is focused from the heart onwards and aims to introduce emotional, physical, and spiritual interconnectedness and harmony.
 - ❖ The energy blocked in the heart chakra is cleansed and removed from the system, which cleanses the thoughts, feelings, beliefs, and insights of the wearer.
